To Anyone Who Enjoys a Belly Laugh:

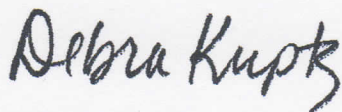

I have had the pleasure of working with Paul Mecurio twice in the last three years and was extremely pleased to learn that the first time he had me in stitches wasn't a fluke. He was even funnier the second time. In both cases, people left the performance remarking that they hadn't laughed that hard in a long time.

While Paul is an excellent comedian, when working with him to negotiate the appearance, manage the logistics and prepare for the event I knew I was working with a very smart business person. He is responsive, flexible and decisive, which made it easy for me as the event planner to get the details finalized in a timely manner.

Paul prepares thoroughly for his appearance, and his primary objective was to deliver a performance that was appropriate to my group. The homework he does on the audience allows him to engage them in a personal and very funny dialog. While he may only speak to a fraction of the audience, he made us all feel as though we'd had a personal conversation with him.

I highly recommend Paul for corporate events, association conferences and any meeting that would benefit from some levity.

Very truly yours,
