Dear Peter:

I am writing to tell you how absolutely thrilled we were with Paul Mecurio's performance at our annual Awards Banquet held on August 8, 2007. Paul went above and beyond, making this year's awards banquet our best yet. The time Paul spent researching our organization and industry made the event extremely memorable. He tailored his act specifically to our group while still sharing much of his personal style, which kept the evening fast-paced and extremely entertaining.

Paul wove his way through the crowd effortlessly and made them roar with laughter at his conversations with some of our organization's better known members. The way he connected to so many of our board members, industry leaders and guests with such ease made it feel like he had known us for years.

Paul deserves much praise for his dedication and attention to detail; we have never had such enthusiasm in our crowd for a performer!

Best regards,
